

Latvian flag is a red field with a white cross in the center. The cross is composed of two perpendicular bands of white. The flag is shown being held up by a person on a ladder, suggesting it is being raised or lowered. The background is a cloudy sky and some trees.